

NGOs & Non-Profits

Helping you make the world a better place. Safely.

Staying safe when abroad

NGO's and humanitarian aid organisations who change the world for the better have a special place in our hearts at Dyami. They truly display the best of humanity in a world which has too many examples of the opposite.

Unfortunately, the best and worst of humanity tend to find their way to the same place and international work at NGO's and humanitarian aid organisations can be incredibly dangerous.

The willingness and motivation of the people who go out and help others or help our planet despite these dangers truly inspire us.

These people and organisations deserve a safe work environment. In fact, they need it in order to be effective.

Dyami has the expertise and resources to protect organisations abroad, even in dangerous conflict zones.

It is our mission to unburden you, so you can do what you're good at.

Enabling new opportunities

Your organization faces different decisions than regular commercial enterprises when it comes to where in the world you need to be. Many times, you venture to places where commercial enterprises don't even dare to go.

Dyami helps you make these decisions and missions possible. Safely.

24/7 EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Worldwide local threat assessments

When performing missions abroad, you need to be certain that your specific location is safe enough. But make no mistake: no place on earth is 100% safe.

Dyami's in-house team of specialised analysts use real-time intelligence to monitor existing emerging conflicts worldwide. We also make very specific threat assessments for our clients, for any place on earth, whether it's on another continent or a European city where there is brewing social unrest.

Our threat assessment reports are extremely detailed and specific but also easy to read. They are designed to give you all the insights you need in order to make big and quick decisions.

These reports contain subjects such as:

- (geo)political situation
- ethnic conflicts
- social unrest
- crime and corruption
- terrorism and violence
- espionage
- cultural aspects
- health risks (including COVID-19)

We also provide real-time alerts when threat levels at relevant locations increase, usually before threat levels become critical. This allows you to anticipate more and take action when needed.

Should a situation abroad become very unsafe, we can provide physical protection and evacuation for your people and assets.

Know who you do business with

It can be difficult to judge who is trustworthy or not, especially abroad, whether they are potential clients, new partners, new suppliers and even new employees.

Dyami can help by providing investigative analyses and risk analyses. We can also provide experts in the field of interrogation that can help assessing important contact moments and conversations. They can observe from a distance or actively participate.

IP safeguarding

For many organisations, their IP and sensitive data are crucial to their existence. Many organisations are at risk of espionage, data and IP-theft. Competitors and foreign regimes are actively at work right now trying to get their hands-on valuable IP across all sectors or trying to figure out where you are active right now or in the near future.

It is crucial to know that cyber security protection alone is not enough to keep your IP and data safe. We regularly see espionage in many different forms:

- bugging of offices, facilities, cars, homes
- intercepting network data (including unsafe Wi-Fi)
- theft or breach of smartphones and laptops
- infiltration of organisations (insider threat)
- coercion, theft, threatening of employees

Only focusing on cyber security is like creating a secure Wi-Fi network at home but leaving your front door open!

IP safeguarding is part of Dyami Corporate Asset Protection.
