

Dyami Company Profile

We are Dyami

Dyami was founded in 2020 in Utrecht, The Netherlands by Eric Schouten, entrepreneur, and former expert at the Dutch Intelligence Agency AIVD.

With an ambitious and motivated approach, our team has grown quickly with experts in many subjects of international security. We have our own in-house analysts and valuable partnerships in order to provide a complete array of protection and security services for your organisation

Young company with experience

Dyami was born because we think security should be better, more efficient, and geared for entrepreneurship.

For this, we have a wealth of experience in fields like international intelligence, Defence, government, law enforcement, cybersecurity, anthropology, conflict studies, travel industry and aviation.

Our clients

- Innovative start-ups and scale-ups
- International companies
- International NGOs and non-profit organisations

Eric Schouten

Founder and CEO

"Dyami is my vision for strategic security with the mindset of an entrepreneur. It's not our job to tell organisations what they should want. It's our job to provide organisations with the support they need."

Strategic security is not a burden on organisations, it's an enabler of safe and successful entrepreneurship!"
