Aviation Security

Dyami Aviation Security — an essential enabler for safe flight operations

Fully covered with Dyami

Our experts have extensive aviation security experience at the highest international level, for airlines and corporate jet operators alike.

Our services are very broad: from AOC application support, security policy design, route threat assessments to crew training.

Dyami is a trusted partner of several established international airlines and corporate jet operators.

Our in-house analysts and experts have years of experience in the fields of aviation, military, intelligence, government, law enforcement, training and cyber security.

Our services include:
- Real-time 24/7 support (hotline/email/signal)
- EASA AOC application/compliance support
- Design/implementation of Emergency Response Plan with Quick Reaction Emergency Response
- Worldwide analyses for destinations, enroute alternates and overflights
- Monitoring/alerting of worldwide conflict zones
- Sourcing of security experts
- Physical security and rescue/evacuation
- Crew training: security, awareness, ERP, CRM
- Corporate Asset Protection: IP, people, fleet and assets; cyber security, screening and profiling

Route threat assessments

The actual flight is where everything comes together: Your security policies, procedures and insights. But threats along the flight route, destination and possible enroute alternates change every day.

Dyami has a very experienced team of in-house analysts and experts who monitor (emerging) conflict zones worldwide. We also make on-demand intelligence & threat assessments for any location in the world. Is it safe for your crew to layover or get stranded in case of AOG? What is the actual situation regarding (geo)political factors, crime, corruption, espionage, terrorism or health risks? Our extensive reports are easily understandable to allow you to anticipate properly and make better critical decisions.

For high-risk operations, we can also arrange physical protection or rescue and evacuation.

Crew training

Proper training is an essential part of safety and security. Dyami provides training for flight crews on the subjects of security awareness, on-board self-defense, emergency response and (joint) CRM.

more info: www.dyami.services/aviation-security