

Security as a Service
count on us

Global Security Challenges

Global risks and challenges have increased dramatically:

- The eruption of geopolitical grievances
- Unexpected crises and events
- Espionage risks to innovative companies
- Long term supply-chain disruption

Yet the opportunities to expand, explore, partner and operate worldwide have grown exponentially too.

As a company, you have to prepare for the impact of unforeseen events in every region where you operate.

It means having specialised access to expertise in the intricacies of business risk and resilience, to remain constantly aware, updated and alerted with global intelligence.

Make sure you anticipate and respond to impacts from actual or potential developments.

Therefore you become better in your preventive measures, reducing costs while staying competitive

Duty of care

- It's your duty to provide a safe & secure work environment.
- Digitalization and remote working brings new risks.
- Employees expect appreciation and support wherever they are.
- Mental wellbeing is an increasingly important issue.

Security, difficult to organize

- Never know when an incident will happen.
- In-house security expertise is a costly product.
- Hard to hire and maintain security professionals.
- Analysing geopolitical risks requires experience.
- Difficult to weed out real vs fake news.

Our Solution

Our solution: Security as a Service

Geopolitical Forecasting & Travel Safety are managed for your organization, increasing trust and peace of mind of your people.

Access to our global intelligence & security networks.

A report and accountability tool to support decision-making.

No surprises with our low-cost fixed subscription fee.

BECOME MORE RESILIENT AGAINST RISKS

Security as a Service

Anticipate & respond to global developments
Access to all of our security and analyst expertise via a simple subscription

- Early warning alerts
- Bespoke security risk assessments
- Bespoke geopolitical & security reporting
- Security advice
- Travel safety support & monitoring
- Dedicated liaison to your organisation
- Access to our global intelligence and security network of experts
- Standby crisis response support

dyami

.services

But who is dyami?

Dyami takes care of all your risk and crisis management needs.

We secure your business operations and safeguard your employees wherever they are.

Helping companies thrive

Dyami was founded in 2019. Founder and CEO Eric Schouten worked at the Dutch General Intelligence and Security Service – AIVD. After a career of 13 years, he left with the aim of offering security & intelligence services to entrepreneurs and companies.

Eric believes in collaboration and bringing expertise together. And after his experiences with various terrorist plots or attacks, global geopolitical unrest, espionage awareness and the disaster with MH17, he wants to use Dyami to ensure that security & intelligence services are made available in an accessible manner. Keeping companies sustainable and innovative.

A diverse & international team

Dyami is proud of our diverse and experienced team that consists of former intelligence officers, business leaders, pilots, diplomats, security managers, and young academics with a background in social studies, conflict studies and anthropology. >>

Some accomplishments

We produced timely situation reports before and during the Ukraine War enabling businesses make sound decisions.

We deliver security & intelligence services to various airlines, governments and companies ranging from SME to Corporates.

We believe in social responsibility and step forward when others need help, most often without generating income for that mission;

We have helped stranded (business) travelers, trapped by the effects of the global pandemic and lockdowns.

We supported over 300 dutch citizens during one of the most discussed evacuations, in Kabul, Afghanistan.

Why dyami?

Knowledge and experience

Strategic understanding based on deep experience within the team, evidenced by the breadth of our security and intelligence portfolio and the complimentary services we can provide.

Global capabilities

A global network of intelligence, aviation and security specialists.
Access to a wide array of sources.

Partnering with dyami

At dyami we believe in a human-centric approach. We value deep client relationships by building on trust, collaboration, flexibility and respect.

Our expert team provides the insights you need to proactively address risk and ensures you stay on top of the geopolitical risk landscape.

Therefore enabling business and reduce costs while keeping your people safe.

Who is counting on us?

WORLD PRESS PHOTO

Eric Schouten

eric@dyami.services
+31 6211 85 339

www.dyami.services

dyami

.services

Take actions based on the best risk intelligence.

LOOK FORWARD! We help with Geopolitical Forecasting